From social risk to sustainable business

About us

twentyfifty is a management consultancy specialising in helping businesses respect human rights

We support companies to identify and address social risks by integrating human rights management into their business.

Our specialty is designing strategies that bring the voices of workers from across the value chain into business planning and execution.

We enable leaders to know, understand and take action to alleviate any negative impacts of their business operations.

We are driven by the belief that businesses flourish when people flourish. When human rights are respected, individuals not only survive, but have the chance to grow.

We call this human flourishing, and it's at the heart of everything we do.

We help companies contribute to a more equitable and inclusive world

To help you meet your sustainability commitments, business goals and sell into markets governed by human rights laws and standards, we provide the following services:

Understanding Impacts

Helping to identify and address the impact of your business on people across your value chain.

Embedding Due Diligence

Designing and implementing the systems and processes, and growing the supportive values and behaviours, that identify and address harm, and drive positive impact.

Renewing Organisations

Helping business leaders develop organisations that adapt to and thrive in a changing world.

We have been doing this work with passion and dedication since 2004 and are recognised by the Financial Times as one of the UK's top sustainability consultancies.

Over the decades, we have built up valuable, globe-spanning relationships as well as specialised sector and subject knowledge.

We integrate advice on human rights, climate change, stakeholder engagement, responsible sourcing, change management and leadership.

Our approach

From strategy to implementation

We will join you at any stage of your human rights journey.

Perhaps you are right at the start, unaware of which path to take and what could lie ahead.

Or maybe you are ready to take stock of what you have done so far and take the next big step in your development.

From designing your first policy to implementing a comprehensive human rights strategy, we can support you every step of the way.

Our approach is rooted in the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

We will work with you to design your Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) strategy and meet local and global legislative requirements.

By building up knowledge, skills and driving value and behaviour change internally, we will create the foundations that ensure your sustainability strategy will last.

By working with local experts, we also ensure our advice is relevant to the markets you operate in.

We integrate the following success factors into our projects

We believe all businesses, including our own, must respond to these areas if we are to create a sustainable future:

Stakeholder Engagement

Listening to all voices, from the boardroom to the people in the fields and factories.

Leadership of Change

Navigating complexity and uncertainty to deliver positive impact.

Human Flourishing

Putting people and their thriving at the centre of all that we do.

Technology Innovation

Embracing technology and data to support more inclusive decision making.

Facing the Climate Crisis

Highlighting and responding to the impact of climate change.

We are renowned for the work we do, the partnerships we create, and the guidance we give

As a member of the B Corp community, we recognise we have an important role to play in sharing our knowledge and experience to amplify and accelerate positive change.

We also partner with multilateral agencies and international organisations such as the UN Global Compact and the World Business Council for Sustainable Development to publish guidance on social sustainability issues.
